About Kathy Lindsay

Kathy Lindsay has been practicing law since 2011. She began an internship at the Public Law Center while studying for the Bar, enjoyed the work, and especially the people whom she worked with. Serving the public and learning the ropes of the Courthouse went hand in hand. Now six years later, she is an attorney volunteer in the Self Help Center/Family Law Facilitator Office -- seems like they can't get rid of her! Over the years she has developed a practice in Family law, Dependency and Probate. She has been involved in the preparation of dozens of guardianship filings through her work at the Self Help Center and looks forward to sharing the benefit her knowledge with you at the seminar.
